wire. In fact, Sys-Con predicts there will be more than 7 billion new Wi-Fi enabled devices. It's all thanks to the new reliability of wireless solutions, and the best we've found is Cisco Meraki – now the exclusive wireless solution of PCH Technologies.

CUT THE DESK TETHER AND DISCOVER OFFICE AND RETAIL MOBILITY

What's the main benefit of wireless solutions – both within a business and on a personal level? The answer, of course, is mobility. The whole reason

What are your thoughts on Wi-Fi? Some people can't live without it. Others? They grumble at the very mention of the name, trumpeting the superiority of the “Cat 5” (or “Cat 6”) Ethernet cable and claiming “wired is the only reliable thing out there.” Like religion and politics, it can be a touchy subject.

Fortunately, PCH has the wireless solutions to impress even these guys. Modern advancements have greatly increased the reliability of wireless solutions to the extent that even the staunchest Ethernet cable lover may actually loosen their death grip upon the for bringing a laptop or tablet with you is to be able to work wherever you go, and it's no fun to have to hunt down a wire to plug into. With wireless, you simply discover the Wi-Fi signal, enter the password, and you're ready to go. Hence the reason Cisco lists the top reason for wireless solutions as office mobility.

When you're hard-wired into your work space, in order to collaborate with a coworker on a project, you must either sign into a screen sharing platform or you must ask them to come to your desk. But with reliable, strong Meraki wireless solutions, simply pick up your laptop, walk to your coworker's location, and show them what you're working on, anywhere within the office. Your workplace just became a lot more productive.

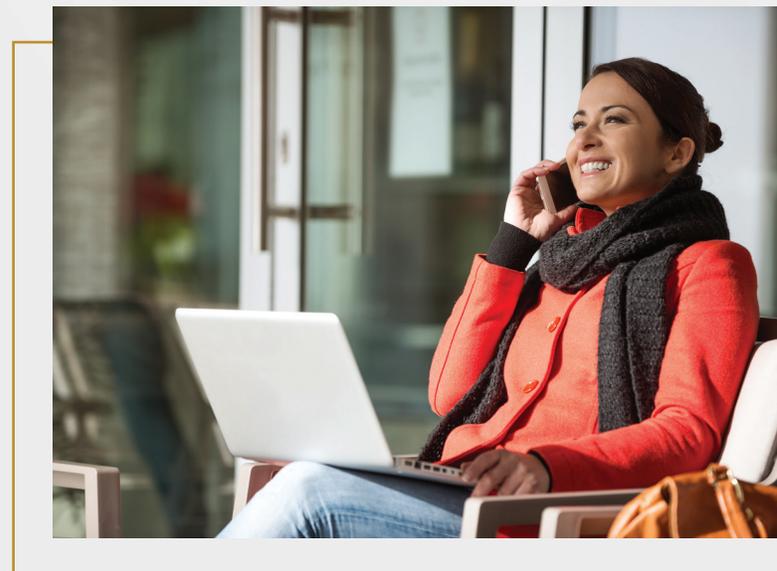

Plus, for retail locations, Wi-Fi is an absolute must. Many Millennials say they won't return to a retail or hospitality-based business unless they offer Wi-Fi connectivity. If you can save them from using their allotted data, chances are they'll be back.

SPEED ISSUES ARE A THING OF THE PAST

Historically, a great deal of the frustration behind wireless solutions has been the speed being less consistent than that of a wired connection. It's terribly frustrating to attempt to download a large file and be met with download speeds equivalent to that of trying to download a 3-megabyte file over a 2400-baud dial-up modem in 1991. It's not surprising that many have reverted back to the wire.

With Meraki wireless solutions, connectivity speed is not just consistent, it's actually speedy. In fact, Wi-Fi speeds have increased significantly with each release. Remember that large file you tried to download? With Meraki wireless solutions, you're likely to have that same file download at the maximum speed your Internet provider allows. Your files will send and come through so quickly, you'll wonder why you relied on the old Ethernet wire for so long.

NO MORE DISCONNECTS

“You appear to be offline. Retrying in 3-2-1 . . .”

Inexplicably, wireless signals over the past few years have tended to be . . . unpredictable. You might be working in the Cloud, adding data to a project, and suddenly – you get the spinning cursor. Something’s not right. You’ve somehow lost connectivity through your wireless signal, and you must wait for it to reconnect. If you’re lucky, it will only take a few seconds. Other times, it takes minutes at a time. But the worst is when you actually have to reboot in order to continue working. After all this – especially if it happens multiple times a day – you can kiss your steady workflow and focus goodbye. Yet another reason many businesses still rely on the wire to this day.

These days, 71% of all mobile communications flows over Wi-Fi. Because of this, one of the reasons we at PCH Technologies exclusively offer Meraki wireless solutions is because they enjoy a reputation for consistent and reliable connectivity. That means you can expect a full day’s worth of work to be done wirelessly without all the disconnects, allowing you to stay in the flow of your work pace. You can even pick up your laptop, walk to another colleague’s desk, and continue working with them – likely without any disruption. It’s a beautiful thing to have mobility, expediency, and consistency.
